

FOR THE PRINCIPAL — PLAIN-LANGUAGE SUMMARY

What's happening across your school right now?

A short, non-technical summary of every grade and subject in your school — so you know exactly where to focus, what's worth watching, and what's already going well.

We checked 312 sections across your school this month, and the great majority are running well. Right now, 5 things could use your attention — touching 25 sections across Grades 6, 7, 9 and 11. Another 7 are worth watching — covering 18 sections across Grades 6, 8, 9 and 10. That's 12 things in total worth knowing about — not one per grade-and-subject box, since a few boxes have more than one thing going on at once.

THIS IS THE ACTUAL DASHBOARD YOUR TEAM SEES — THE SAME 12 THINGS, SHOWN THREE WAYS

HOW TO READ THIS REPORT

- Action needed — these sections would benefit from support. Worth stepping in this week.
- Watch — not urgent, nothing to do yet. We're just keeping you in the loop.
- On track — no action needed. Going smoothly this month.

Monthly Pulse Report — March 2026

Needs action now 5 things

These 5 are worth a response this month, touching 25 sections across Grades 6, 7, 9 and 11 — small, fixable things. Ordered by how many sections each one touches, so you know where to look first.

ACTION NEEDED

Grade 11 · English

Sudden score drop

Written composition scores dipped this term — close to grade-wide, affecting 9 sections. A clear, fixable opportunity.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

11A

11B

11C

11D

11E

11F

11G

11H

11I

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

Compare against last term's marking guide first — a change in how work was graded is more likely than students actually falling behind.

ACTION NEEDED

Grade 9 · Science

Students are more confident than their scores show

6 sections are answering with great confidence — just a little ahead of where their scores currently are.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

9A

9B

9C

9D

9E

9F

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

Check last term's marking guide too — a grading change could explain part of the gap.

ACTION NEEDED

Grade 11 · Computer Science

Scores dropped after an assignment format change

A dip across the whole cohort, tied to a change in assignment format partway through the term — 5 sections affected, and easy to trace.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

CS Batch A

CS Batch B

CS Batch C

CS Batch D

CS Batch E

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

Compare results against the old assignment format — this looks like a format issue, not a drop in ability.

ACTION NEEDED

Grade 7 · Math

Students are more confident than their scores show

A growing gap between how confident these 3 sections feel and how they're currently scoring.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

7A

7B

7C

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

Check whether these sections share a teacher or a timetable slot before assuming it's about the syllabus.

ACTION NEEDED

Grade 6 · Math

Problem-solving scores have room to recover

A dip in problem-solving scores following a recent change in teaching pace — contained to 2 sections, and easy to trace back.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

6A

6B

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

Slow the pace back down in just these two sections and check again before rolling the change out further.

Monthly Pulse Report — March 2026

Worth watching 7 things

Nothing here needs a response yet — these are early enough to just keep an eye on, covering 18 sections across Grades 6, 8, 9 and 10. We're noting them now simply so you're always a step ahead.

WATCH

Grade 8 · English

Students are skipping questions they can handle

A pattern of skipping questions well within their ability — likely a confidence thing, not a skills gap.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

8A

8B

8C

8D

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

A short, informal conversation with these sections — not a formal remediation plan.

WATCH

Grade 10 · English

Leaning more on AI tools than their own thinking

A growing habit of leaning on AI tools rather than their own reasoning when answering.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

10A

10B

10C

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

Check whether the AI use in these sections is thoughtful or just a shortcut, before restricting access.

WATCH

Grade 9 · Math

A smaller version of the Grade 9 Science pattern

A smaller, milder version of the confidence gap seen in Grade 9 Science, above.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

9A

9B

9C

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

No action needed yet — just carry it onto next month's watch list.

WATCH

Grade 9 · Science

Leaning more on AI tools than their own thinking

The same AI-leaning pattern as Grade 10 English, just in a smaller subset of these Grade 9 Science sections.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

9A

9B

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

Check whether AI use in these two sections is thoughtful or just a shortcut, before restricting access.

Monthly Pulse Report — March 2026

Continued — 3 more items on the watch list.

WATCH

Grade 10 · English

A second, smaller confidence gap

A second, smaller pattern in the same grade and subject — confidence and performance are starting to drift a little apart.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

10A

10B

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

Carry this onto next month's watch list alongside the AI-reliance issue above.

WATCH

Grade 6 · Social Studies

Classes have started late a few times

Three assessments in a row started a little late, contained to just two sections — an easy fix.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

6A

6B

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

A quick, informal note about routine — early enough that it isn't a real concern yet.

WATCH

Grade 6 · Hindi

An emerging gap in reading comprehension

A small gap in reading comprehension appearing in this elective batch — early enough to shape easily.

SECTIONS AFFECTED

Hindi Batch A

Hindi Batch B

SUGGESTED NEXT STEP

No action needed yet — just carry it onto next month's watch list.

"5 things are worth a look this month — everything else is either being watched or already going well."